ECO-CHIC

Sustainable design principles are the impetus behind some of BC Home's latest and greatest home-decor finds

DRINK UP

Canada has some of the best-quality drinking water in the world – why not show some pride in it? With "tap water" boldly emblazoned in white print on the clear glass bottle, the tap water bottle offers a chic throwback design in two sizes (250 ml and 500 ml) and a tightly sealing flip cap. Take care: glass isn't unbreakable – but it is of the most durable quality, it won't leach into your drinking water and it's ever-so-conveniently dishwasher-safe. Areaworx Lighting & Design

MAKE A SPLASH

Bring your backsplash front and centre with the rich, liquid colours of Icestix glass mosaic tiles. Glossy, matte and iridescent tiles combine to create 12 complex colourways, including darkly dramatic Crevice and tone-on-tone Freeze. Individual ½-by-two-inch or ½-by-four-inch tiles come pre-mounted in three different patterns on 12-by-12-inch mesh sheets for easy installation. Frost-proof, impervious to water and easy to clean, they're a long-lasting design choice. Plus, you can feel extra good about your eco-friendly purchase: Icestix tiles are manufactured locally by Interstyle Ceramics & Glass from recycled glass that would otherwise be destined for the landfill. Creekside Tile

COSY UP TO FELT

What's soft, durable and back in fashion? That would be felt, the oldest textile known to man, and it's making a modern comeback. At the head of the trend are UnderCollar pillows, products that came as a result of collaboration between Boston-based designers Kelly Smith of Etcetera Goods and Jennifer Hill of JHill Design. The eye-catching throws are made from a gorgeous collection of French-made reclaimed felt originally intended for the under-collar lining of tailor suit jackets (hence the name). Each of the three designs – Andalucia, Kiev and Champagne – is a laser-cut pattern based on Hill's imaginative and light-hearted "Places I've Never Been" series, and is available in two sizes and four colourways. P+A Furniture
